Judge Jeremy Fogel has been a judge for the Northern District of California since 1998. He has presided over a hundred patent cases, and has been identified as being on the short list of potential Federal Circuit nominees.

Ronald S. Laurie has worked in Silicon Valley for over forty years as an engineer and IP attorney. In 2004, Mr. Laurie co-founded Inflexion Point Strategy, LLC, an IP investment bank engaged in buying, selling, and investing in strategic IP assets and IP-intensive businesses.

Mark Lemley is a preeminent scholar of intellectual property law and an accomplished litigator having litigated cases before the U.S. Supreme Court and federal circuit courts. At Stanford University, he currently acts as the director of the Program in Law, Science & Technology.

Nader Mousavi co-heads Intellectual Property for Sullivan & Cromwell and is widely recognized by Chambers, IAM, and Northern California Superlawyers as a leading IP transactional lawyer. In 2009, he advised Intel in its cross-license with AMD, Silver Lake in its acquisition of Skype, and Kodak in its cross-licenses with Samsung.

Moderator: Daralyn Durie is co-founder of Durie Tangri LLP, and has been chosen by The American Lawyer as one of the top 50 litigators under age 45 in the United States and selected by the Daily Journal as one of the top 50 intellectual property lawyers in California.
